

Special Education Parent Advisory Group (SEPAG)

PARENT WEBINAR

Transitioning to College

Wednesday, January 27th, 2021

7:00 pm - 8:00 pm

Additional Information: This webinar will provide information to students and parents regarding preparing for the postsecondary education environment. The importance of self-advocacy and how parents can best support their student as an adult will be addressed.

Christine Psolka has over 30 years of experience working as a disability services provider in varied settings. Christine earned a Master's degree in Disability Counseling from the University of Wisconsin—Madison and has practiced her craft in private practice, rehabilitation settings, and, most recently, in the college and university environment.

For the past 13 years, she has had the honor of successfully working with students who use accommodations and disability-related academic support at both the community college and private university levels in New Jersey. Her expertise includes coaching first-year college students as they navigate the challenges of Learning Differences, Mental Health Issues, AD(H)D, Autism Spectrum Disorder, and Chronic Medical Conditions.

This hour-long presentation is presented virtually and includes a Q&A session at the end.
